Submitting an application

The application for rectification of the decision may be initiated by the customer (applicant) in the administrative authority procedure if there is a misdirection or a calculation error in the decision and it does not affect the substance of the case. The request for correction of the decision shall be forwarded by the applicant to the competent and relevant decision-making authority.

No attachment to this request is required.

The procedure is free of charge.

Processing an application

The request for rectification of the decision shall be examined by the competent authority and, if it finds that the decision contains a misdirection or a calculation error, the authority shall rectify the error, if necessary after hearing the customer.

The authority complies with the request of the application by revoking the faulty decision and making the new decision, which shall be sent to the customer. The decision is an electronically generated and authenticated document. During the process no personal appearance by the customer is necessary.
